Read the passage below and answer the questions that follow based on your understanding of the passage. Answer the questions (46 - 50):

The Mehman - Khanah of the Taj Mahal was similarly converted into a closed quarter and was regularly let to the British honey - mooners, it is astounding to note that the Taj Mahal itself was put up for sale by duction for the value of its marble, at the instance of William Bentinck, and a News item to this effect was published in the English daily Jhon Bull of Calcutta, on July 26, 1831, but for the timely intervention of a conscientions military officer, this most beautiful, wonderful and representative monument of the Medieval period would have been dismantled and destroyed only for the sake of its marble, and lost to us for ever. This would have certainly left the medieval period barren and barbarous, as the British rulers actually wanted to represent it to the posterity.

This happens in all ages and in all countries and this is the universal truth. Whenever the people are ignorant of their history, and have no understanding and awareness of their architectural heritage, and owing to this ignorance, they do not feel proud of it and are not emotionally attached to it, they almost carry it an their shoulders like a dead weight which they drop as easily as one drops nails and hair. This is what precisely happened under the East India Co. The people disowned their own architectural heritage and the British could play havoc upon them, freely, in pursuance of their policy to tarnish the glorious legacy of the Mughals when they had supplanted in the paramountcy of Hindustan.
